HEAD'S WELCOME

It has been another excellent week at St Buryan!

The learning going on throughout the school at the moment is brilliant to see, as are the happy faces on our children.

We had another great Wednesday afternoon as our House Teams met up to take part in our circuit of activities to help our children develop skills in both the National and wider curriculum. When we discuss the wider curriculum, this means giving our children access to opportunities that go beyond the National Curriculum and to ensure that their experiences of school must involve more than 'qualifications'.

This is something that we are extremely passionate about here at St Buryan Academy and feel are especially important at the moment with all that is going on in the world at the moment. Another part of this are our residential experiences, which are coming up in the next couple of weeks. It is always an exciting - but busy - time.

Another great example of the children's learning coming to life is the school trip our year 5 and 6 children went on this week. They venture to Morrab Gardens to investigate pond-life and learnt lots, tying this experience in with recent science work.
