Dear parents and carers,

It's been a busy week at school but the statutory end of Key Stage 2 tests have now all been completed meaning that we can enjoy the many activities planned for the rest of the term.

Whilst we understand that these SAT tests are necessary to assess the academic attainment of our Year 6 pupils we would like to emphasise again that, as a school, we celebrate all our children's talents.

Next week we hope that you will take the opportunity to enjoy the considerable musical talent of our school choir.

Mr and Mrs Chant, who voluntarily lead our choir have been working hard with Miss Whistler (trainee teacher) and myself to produce the ever popular musical, 'Joseph and the Amazing Technicolour Dreamcoat' which will be performed next week. Our afternoon rehearsals have proved to be the perfect balance to a morning of assessment tests!

At the event, there are lots of opportunities to take up free training and courses with us as well (we are a funded organisation working with government and EU agendas), but the Digi-Tech day is just a little taster of a few things. At the moment we have a project specifically targeting women. We have lots of other free training which is for almost anyone. If you want to know any more about us or what we do, just let me know.
